Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mark J. Henry on 29 March 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 1, lines 6 and 7 of the claim, delete "a wave voltage of the wave source as a unit voltage", and insert -- a unit voltage as a wave voltage of the wave source--.

In claim 2, lines 6 and 7 of the claim, delete "a wave voltage of the wave source as a unit voltage", and insert -- a unit voltage as a wave voltage of the wave source--.

In claim 3, line 8 of the claim, delete "a wave voltage of the wave source as a unit voltage", and insert -- a unit voltage as a wave voltage of the wave source--.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-3 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: None of the prior art teaches an apparatus or method for calculating an electromagnetic field intensity that includes calculating a virtual current vector from a voltage vector and a mutual immittance matrix of an object that includes a wave source where a wave source power is applied, where the voltage vector and the mutual immittance use a unit voltage as the wave voltage of the wave source, calculating an input impedance of the wavesource, calculating the wave source voltage based on the input impedance and the wave source power, calculating a current vector based on the wave source voltage and the virtual current vector and calculating the electromagnetic field intensity around the wave source.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
